Come to XML 2004 and experience the world's largest and most comprehensive XML Vendor Exposition. This year's event will showcase the leading vendors of XML products and cutting-edge technologies. Highlights of the exposition include: interoperability demos, an incubator area for pre-released products, lightning-fast product demos, and much more!

But that is just a portion of this year's XML event. Don't forget the XML 2004 Conference program, featuring presentations focused on applications such as: web services, e-commerce, content management and databases, publishing, transaction management and a host of other technologies. For a complete list of presentations, tracks and events, see www.xmlconference.org. Exhibitors and sponsors of this year's XML 2004 Expo include:
